

WORKING WITH HIGH CONFLICT CLIENTS

COURSE AIMS

- Understanding relationship formation and breakdown
- Gain knowledge about what a co-parent is, and types of co-parenting relationships
- To have a more in-depth understanding of conflict and how it impacts work with clients
- Appreciate how diversity and culture can impact work
- Understand and recognise blame and its effect on you and the couple in high conflict
- Develop self-awareness and self-care when working with high conflict individuals
- Understanding and recognising enmeshment and manipulation
- Develop a deeper understanding of communication and how to implement strategies with high conflict clients

Suitable for solicitors, barristers, judges, magistrates, mediators
Workshop is for a mixed group of up to 12 delegates (minimum 6 to run)

Can be delivered anywhere in the UK

Delivered by Relationship Therapist/Trainers with expertise in this field

Can be delivered 'in-house' if required

2 x 4-hour sessions